Sydney Harbour in War and Peace
Bradleys Head Group Tour

From arrival of the First Fleet in 1788 to the present Port Jackson has been home to naval units. Initially ships were detached from the Royal Navy to provide Naval defence until 1859. Then followed the New South Wales Colonial Navy, the Commonwealth Naval Force from Federation and from 1911, the Royal Australian Navy.

During this short walking tour on Bradleys Head where its own military history and stunning vistas combine, our knowledgeable guides will tell stories along a timeline from first European settlement to the end of WW2. These stories of naval events also connect with military and naval activity on the Harbour over two centuries.

For Group Organisers

- The Naval Historical Society of Australia will conduct this this tour for your group on a mutually agreed date at least six weeks after contacting the Society.
- Suited to groups from 15 to 20.
- The cost is $30 per person.

Meeting Point: The tour starting location is the circular Navy Memorial on Bradley's Head.

Duration: 1.5 hours starting at 1030 am. However, an alternative time may be possible.

Cost: The cost is $30 per head paid by bank transfer ahead of time.

Mobility: The pathways and areas visited during this tour are generally flat and easily accessible. The total distance walked is less than one kilometre.

Cancellation Policy: Although it is possible for the tour to proceed rail, hail or shine, the lack of shelter if inclement weather is forecast may determine cancellation or postponement of the tour. If this is necessary the guide will contact the tour organiser late on the previous day. A full refund will be made.

Contact: E-mail: tours@navyhistory.org.au, Phone: (02) 95370038 (Tuesday and Thursday only 0900 to 1500)

Bookings